UCLA School of Law and The Institute for Law Teaching and Learning (ILTL) present a one day teaching workshop

ENGAGING THE ENTIRE CLASS

Strategies for Enhancing Participation and Inclusion in Law School Classroom Learning

This conference is for all law faculty (full-time and part-time) who want to develop techniques for engaging diverse and distracted law students. Each workshop session will be presented by a teacher featured in the recent Harvard University Press book, What the Best Law Teachers Do.

conference presenters:

Patti Alleva
University of North Dakota School of Law
Whole Person, Whole Class: Teaching Holistically Through an Integrated Learning Lens

Steven Friedland
Elon University School of Law
Engaging Law Students Differently: Drawing From the Pedagogies of Other Professional School Domains

Steven K. Homer
University of New Mexico School of Law
Engaging the Entire Class through 'Warm'- and Cold-Calling

Nancy Levit
University of Missouri–Kansas City School of Law
The Happy Lawyer—Making a Good Life in the Law

Hiroshi Motomura
UCLA School of Law
Growing an Inclusive Classroom Community

Saturday, February 28, 2015
8:00 AM – 5:00 PM
UCLA School of Law

Register by February 12, 2015 for discounted registration!

Please visit lawteaching.org/conferences/2015spring/ for more details including the registration form and conference schedule.

For inquiries, please contact:
Samantha Luu
UCLA School of Law
luu@law.ucla.edu
(310) 825-5192

Additional support provided by West Academic Publishing, and Carolina Academic Press.

UCLA | SCHOOL OF LAW

INSTITUTE FOR LAW TEACHING AND LEARNING

WEST ACADEMIC