

Conference Announcement

Law Teaching for Adjunct Faculty and New Professors is a one-day conference for new and experienced adjunct faculty, new full-time professors, and others who are interested in developing and supporting those colleagues. The conference will take place on Saturday, April 28, 2018, at Texas A&M University School of Law, Fort Worth, Texas, and is co-sponsored by the Institute for Law Teaching and Learning and Texas A&M University School of Law.

Sessions will include:

- Course Design and Learning Outcomes – Michael Hunter Schwartz
- Assessment – Sandra Simpson
- Active Learning – Sophie Sparrow
- Team-based Learning – Lindsey Gustafson
- Technology and Teaching – Anastasia Boles

Additionally, master teacher Gerry Hess, Professor Emeritus, Gonzaga University School of Law, will be on hand for one-on-one mentoring sessions throughout the day for a limited number of participants. Indicate your interest on the registration form, slots will be filled on a first-come-first-served basis, and we will notify you prior to the conference if you have been assigned a meeting time.

By the end of the conference, all participants will have concrete ideas to bring back to their students, colleagues, and institutions. And each participant will receive a copy of Teaching Law by Design for Adjuncts or Teaching Law by Design.

Click here for the registration link

Click here for the hotel link

Sheraton Fort Worth Downtown Hotel
1701 Commerce Street
Fort Worth, TX 76102
(817) 335-7000

For more information, contact ILTL Co-Directors:

Sandra Simpson
simpsons@gonzaga.edu

Emily Grant
emily.grant@washburn.edu

Kelly Terry
ksterry@ualr.edu